

WHAT'S YOUR LEADERSHIP IDENTITY?

Clarify your own leadership style and identity to increase your self awareness and help you be more intentional in how you show up, build relationships, and impact others in your role every day.

Personal Core Values in Action

1. In your perfect vision of yourself as a leader, create a list of 4 or 5 core values or tenets that drive your behavior and how you want to show up everyday.
2. For each of these values write 3 concrete examples of exactly what they look like in action as clearly defined behaviors that are specific and tangible.

Your Personal Impact & Legacy

1. How do you want to be known and remembered as a leader?
2. What do you want it to feel like to be part of your team, and on the receiving end of your communication and leadership style?
3. What do you want people to tell their friends, colleagues, and family about what it's like to work with you?

What Makes You Tick?

1. What do you see as your biggest strengths & opportunities to improve?
2. How can people on your team earn an extra gold star with you?
3. What are pet peeves of yours on a team?
4. What's the best way to share feedback with you?
5. Something people often misunderstand about you?
6. Best approach if someone has something difficult to say to you?
7. Something you think you're exceptional at that most people don't know?
